Vinification

The grapes were hand-picked and pressed as whole bunches. After static settling of the lees, fermentation took place in temperature-controlled tuns. The wine was then raised on lees for eight months, allowing texture and integration to develop while preserving the incisive acidity, aromatic clarity and mineral precision of Grand Cru Kitterlé Riesling.

Tasting Notes

Lemon yellow with light green reflections, this Grand Cru Kitterlé Riesling shows yuzu zest, lemon, white flowers and a fine smoky, flinty note. With air, lemongrass and ginger add further complexity to the wine. The palate is dense, fleshy and incisive, with citrus, spice, subtle pearling and a mineral thread of gunflint. The fine vegetal finish is long and lively, expressing the site with precision and restraint.

Food Pairing

Pair with fresh anchovies marinated in lemon, skate wing salad, grilled lobster, or goat's milk cheese such as Selles-sur-Cher. Its mineral tension suits precise seafood dishes.
